Whitehall, September 6.

The Letters from the Eaſt Indies, of which the following are Copies and Extracts, were received on Sunday laſt by the Hawke, one of the Company's Ships.

Extract of a Letter from the Preſident and Council at Fort St. George, in their Political Department, to the Court of Directors, dated April 14, 1791.

OUR laſt Communication reſpecting the Grand Army adviſed your Honourable Court, that Lord Cornwallis had advanced as far as Vellore; and that he hoped to reach Bangalore on the 5th or 6th of March.

In purſuance of this Intention the Army moved, with all poſſible Expedition, towards the Moglee Paſs, and encamped on the Table Land of Myſore on the 21ſt of February, without any material Difficulty, or the leaſt Interference on the Part of the Enemy.

Tippoo, in the mean Time, remained near Gingee, apparently waiting the Motions of Lord Cornwallis; but he no ſooner diſcovered their Object, than he relinquiſhed all Hope of carrying on the War in the Carnatic, and haſtened through the Changamah Paſs, for the Preſervation of his own Dominions.

After halting Two Days, for the Purpoſe of muſtering the Bullocks, &c. Lord Cornwallis marched forward in the Direction of Bangalore. The Forts of Molwaggle, Colar, and Ouſcottah, ſucceſſively fell on the Approach of our Army. Forage and Water were found in Abundance on the Line of March; and ſuch was the Confidence of the Inhabitants, that they voluntarily ſupplied the Camp with every Article of Proviſion.

In the Morning of the 5th of March the Enemy appeared, for the firſt Time, in Force, a few Miles on the Left Flank of the Army. Parties of Horſe approached very near the Line, and ſome Guns were opened upon it's Rear, but at ſo conſiderable a Diſtance that they neither retarded the Progreſs nor did any material Injury to the Troops.

Lord Cornwallis encamped within Sight of Bangalore in the Evening of the 5th, and on the 7th in the Morning the Pettah was carried by Aſſault. It was a fortunate Circumſtance that a conſiderable Quantity of dry Forage was found in it, as Tippoo had deſtroyed all the Villages around the Fort, and the barren Face of the Country afforded an alarming Proſpect for the Support of our Cattle.

The ſucceſsful Attack which had been made on the Pettah, and the happy Conſequences attending it, gave us the greateſt Satisfaction; but, at the ſame Time, we ſincerely lamented the Loſs ſuſtained on that Occaſion, by the Death of Lieutenant-Colonel Moorhouſe, whoſe Military Character was ſo much diſtinguiſhed, and whoſe long, active and zealous Services to the Company deſerved the higheſt Applauſe.

In order to teſtify our Senſe of ſuch conſpicuous Merits, we came to the following Reſolutions, viz. "Government having received Advice of the Death "of Lieutenant-Colonel Moorhouſe, who was killed "in the Aſſault of the Pettah of Bangalore, the 7th "Inſtant:—Reſolved, as a Teſtimony of Reſpect "to the Memory of an Officer who ſerved the "Company many Years with diſtinguiſhed Zeal, "Spirit and Ability, that his Remains be, with the "Permiſſion of the Miniſters and Church-Wardens, publickly interred in the Church of Fort "St. George, at the Company's Expence, and a "Marble Tablet fixed over his Grave, with a ſuitable Inſcription, in Commemoration of his Merits:—Reſolved, likewiſe, That a Letter be "written to Earl Cornwallis to inform him of this "Intention, and to requeſt his Lordſhip will be "pleaſed

" pleaſed to direct, that the Body of the late Lieu-
" tenant-Colonel Moorhouſe be removed to the Pre-
" ſidency, ſo ſoon as the Situation of Affairs will
" permit."

We are aſſured your Honorable Court will be well pleaſed to find that proper Reſpect has been paid to the Memory of one of the beſt Officers that ever ſerved the Company; and we are confident this public Teſtimony will be gratefully received by the whole Army.

Since the Aſſault of the Pettah no official Advices of the Siege have reached us from Lord Cornwallis. But by Means of the Public Tappaſs, diſpatched from Camp as Opportunities offered, many private Letters of undoubted Authority have been received; and from theſe we learn, that the firſt Batteries were opened againſt the Fort on the 12th, and that the Approaches were carried on with unremitting Aſſiduity, and in the Face of Tippoo's whole Army: That on the 21ſt at Night, about Eleven o'Clock, the Storm began, and was crowned with the moſt complete and brilliant Succeſs. The Garriſon gave Way on all Sides; and though the Loſs of the Enemy on this Occaſion was conſiderable, we have the Satisfaction to obſerve, that our's is ſtated at a very ſmall Number. The Miſcarriage of Lord Cornwallis's official Advice of the Capture of Bangalore, will juſtify our tranſmitting a private Copy of the General Orders iſſued to the Army a Day after his Succeſs; and we beg Leave to conclude this Account by tendering our ſincereſt Congratulations to your Honorable Court on an Event ſo glorious to your Arms, and ſo important to your Intereſts in this Country.

We have been honoured with Two Letters from Lord Cornwallis ſince the Fall of Bangalore, which we ſend as Numbers in the Packet. One dated the 27th of March, adviſing us, that as he had received Information of the actual March of Rajah Tauje Want (the Nizam's General) with a conſiderable Body of Cavalry, towards him, and being ſenſible of the great Importance of ſecuring the Junction of this Fort, and the Probability that Tippoo would uſe every Means in his Power to harraſs and obſtruct their March, he had determined to move to the Northward, in the Direction in which the Rajah was expected; and that he was farther induced to adopt this Meaſure from the Aſſurances which he had received that the friendly Poligars, in that Part of the Country, had collected a large Quantity of Grain, and a great Number of Cattle, for the Uſe of the Army, within Fifty Miles of Bangalore.

His Lordſhip added, that he could not then form a preciſe Judgment whether he ſhould be able to attempt the Reduction of Seringapatam before the Rains, or whether he muſt limit his Views to Oſſore, and an Eſtabliſhment in that Part of the Myſore Country; but that he could aſſure us at nothing but abſolute Neceſſity ſhould make him abandon his former Plan: That, with a View to expedite the Re-equipment of the heavy Artillery, he had appointed Colonel Duff to command in Bangalore, into which Place he had put the 36th Regiment and Three Native Battalions: That the Quantity of Military Stores of all Sorts found in it was aſtoniſhing; and that there was, in particular, more Gunpowder than we could poſſibly have Occaſion for during the preſent War.

The ſecond Letter from Lord Cornwallis is dated the 2d Inſtant, and adviſed us that he left his Camp, to the Southward of Bangalore, on the 28th Ult. and on that Day fell in with the Rear of the Enemy's Line of March at Elevancum: That, although our Infantry could not come up in Time to gain any material Advantage, his Lordſhip purſued him cloſely for ſeveral Miles, and obliged him to relinquiſh the Object, which he appeared to have in View, of getting between our Army and the Corps of the Nizam's Cavalry: That Tippoo retired to Perriabalaboram, leaving behind him One Braſs Nine Pounder; and that he had ſince moved towards Shevegangа.

Lord Cornwallis, in his Letter, complains of the Inactivity of Rajah Turge Want, to whom he had written, that if he heard of any more Delays and Exceſſes, he ſhould proceed with his own Troops to the Execution of his future Plan of Operations.

The latter Part of the Letter is of ſo pleaſing a Nature that we ſhall give it in his Lordſhip's own Words: "We have been moſt plentifully ſupplied
" with Forage ſince we left Bangalore, notwithſtand-
" ing the Attempts of the Enemy to burn it, and
" this Day ſome Banjaries of this Country brought
" to Camp above Four Thouſand Bullocks, Half of " them loaded with Rice, and the other Half with
" Grain, Doll, Ghee, and other Bazar Articles."

Lord Cornwallis having received a Letter from Tippoo the 2th of March, making an Overture for a ſeparate Accommodation with us, replied, "That he could encourage no Propoſition that did " not include our Allies." Copies of the Letter and the Anſwer having been tranſmitted to us, we forward them as Numbers in the Packet.

A large Force having been left to the Southward at the Time General Medows moved from Trichinopoly, Lord Cornwallis expreſſed to us his Deſire that it might be ordered to Amboor. Inſtructions were in conſequence given to that Effect, and we have the Pleaſure to add, that the Detachment reached it's Place of Deſtination on the 22d Ultimo. By a Letter from Lieutenant-Colonel Oldham, who commands it, dated the 6th Inſtant, we are adviſed, that, in conſequence of Orders from Earl Cornwallis, he was to move from Amboor the next Day, and to advance to the Head of the Ghauts, where he was to take Poſt until he heard further from his Lordſhip. This Detachment, with the Reinforcements ſent from hence, conſiſts of about 700 Europeans, 4,200 Natives, and 450 Cavalry.

General Abercromby, with the Bombay Army, took Poſſeſſion of the Coorg Paſs on the 27th of February. The Advance, under Lieutenant-Colonel Hartley, was ſtrongly poſted on the Top; and the General was buſily employed in ſending up Supplies; ſince that Time (as we are informed by private Advices) the Second Diviſion of the 73d Regiment, ſent from hence on your Ship the Queen, and the 14th Carnatic Battalion of Native Infantry, have joined, and rendered General Abercromby's Force very reſpectable. The Coorg Paſs is about Fifty Miles from Seringapatam.

G. A. O.

LORD Cornwallis feels the moſt ſenſible Gratification in congratulating the Officers and Soldiers of the Army on the honorable Iſſue of the Fatigues and Dangers which they underwent during the late arduous Siege.

Their Alacrity and Firmneſs in the Execution of their various Duties has perhaps never been exceeded; and he ſhall not only think it incumbent upon him to repreſent their meritorious Conduct in the ſtrongeſt Colours, but he ſhall ever remember it with the ſincereſt Sentiments of Eſteem and Admiration.

The

The judicious Arrangements which were made by Colonel Duff in the Artillery Department, and his Exertions, and those of the other Officers and the Soldiers of that Corps in general in the Service of the Battle, are intitled to his Lordship's highest Approbation; to which he desires to add, that he thinks himself much obliged to Lieutenant-Colonel Gell for the able Manner in which he directed the Fire during the Day of the 21st.

Lord Cornwallis is so well acquainted with the Ardor that pervades the whole Army, that he would have been happy if it had been practicable to have allowed every Corps to have participated in the Glory of the Enterprize of last Night; but it must be obvious to all, that, in forming a Disposition for the Assault, a certain Portion of the Troops could only be employed.

The Conduct of all the Regiments which happened in their Tour to be upon Duty that Evening, did Credit, in every Respect, to their Spirit and Discipline; but his Lordship desires to offer the Tribute of his particular and warmest Praise to the European Grenadiers and Light Infantry of the Army, and to the 36th, 72d, and 76th Regiments, who led the Attack, and carried the Fortress, and who, by their Behaviour on that Occasion, furnished a conspicuous Proof, that disciplined Valor in Soldiers, when directed by Zeal and Capacity in Officers, is irresistable.

The Activity and good Conduct of Lieutenant-Colonel Maxwell, in the Command of the Pettah for several Days previous to the Assault of the Fort, was, in every Respect, highly commendable; but his Lordship desires that he will accept of his particular Thanks for the judicious Arrangements which he made for the Assault which was committed to his Direction, and for the Gallantry which he displayed in the Execution of them.

He likewise returns his warmest Acknowledgements to Major Kelly, who undertook the Command of the Corps that commenced the Attack of the Breach, and who, by animating them by his own Example, contributed essentially to our important Success.

Lieutenant-Colonel Stuart may be assured that Lord Cornwallis will ever retain the most grateful Remembrance of the valuable and steady Support which that Officer affords him, by his Military Experience and constant Exertions to promote the Public Service; and although his Lordship is unwilling to offend General Meadows's Delicacy, by attempting to express his full Sense of the able and friendly Assistance which he uniformly experiences from him, he cannot avoid declaring, that it has made an Impression on his Mind that can never be effaced.

GENTLEMEN,

HAVING received Information from Lieutenant Stuart of the actual March of Rajah Feijewunt, and being sensible of the great Importance of securing the Junction of so considerable a Body of Cavalry, and of the Probability that Tippoo would use every Means in his Power to harrass and obstruct their March, I have determined to move to the Northward, in the Direction in which they may be expected, and I am further induced to adopt this Measure, from the Assurances which I have received that the friendly Poligars in that Part of the Country have collected a large Quantity of Grain, and a great Number of Cattle, for the Use of the Army, within Fifty Miles of this Place.

After the Acquisition of Rajah Feigewunt's Cavalry, I shall hope to cover so large a Tract of Country, as to prevent the distressing Effects at least of a partial Fire brand, and to ensure the March of Lieutenant-Colonel Oldham's Detachment from Amboor, without being obliged to go to the Head of the Passes to meet him.

Whether I shall be able to attempt the Reduction of Seringapatam before the Rains, or whether I must limit my Views to Ouffore, and an Establishment in this Country, will depend on Circumstances of which it is impossible for me at present to form a precise Judgment; I can, however, most truly assure you, that nothing but absolute Necessity shall make me abandon my former Plan.

I have, with a View to expedite the Re-equipment of the heavy Artillery, appointed Colonel Duff to command in Bangalore, into which Place I have put the 76th Regiment and Three Native Battalions.

The Quantity of Military Stores of all Sorts that we have found in it is astonishing, and there is in particular more Gunpowder than we can possibly have Occasion for during the present War.

I have the Honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your most obedient humble Servant,

Sir CHARLES OAKLEY, Bart. Senior Member, and Council.

GENTLEMEN,

I Left my Camp, to the Southward of Bangalore, on the 28th Ult. and that Day fell in with the Rear of the Enemy's Line of March at Elettaconda; and although our Infantry could not come up in Time to gain any material Advantage, we pushed them closely for several Miles, and obliged them to relinquish the Object, which they appeared to have in View, of getting between our Army and the Corps of the Nizam's Cavalry, which was expected to join us from Gunjecottah. Tippoo retired to Tedlalabotum, leaving behind him One Brass Nine Pounder, which broke down, and he has since moved towards Shevagunga. In pursuance of the Plan, which I mentioned in my Letter of the 27th Ultimo, I came on, by the Way of Dhonelly, to this Place, where I shall probably remain a few Days, as our Situation here is well calculated for preventing the Enemy from disturbing the March of our Allies. I am sorry, however, to add, that Rajah Furje Want, on the Pretence of the most absurd and ill-founded Reports, has halted at Wimpilly, which is only Eighteen Cos's on this Side of Gunjecottah, and has declared that he will not proceed (unless he should receive positive Orders for that Purpose from his Master) until I inform him that I will send a Detachment to meet him at Chitomurrypait. The Fall of Bangalore, and the March of our Army to the Northward, with the Assurances I have given him that I will most attentively observe the Movements of the Enemy, will probably relieve him from his Fears, and induce him to come forward, if he seriously intends to join us; but I have acquainted him, him, that, if I hear of any more Delays and Excuſes, I ſhall proceed with our own Troops to the Execution of my future Plan of Operations. We have been moſt plentifully ſupplied with Forage ſince we left Bangalore, notwithſtanding the Attempts of the Enemy to burn it; and this Day ſome Banjarres of this Country brought to Camp above 4000 Bullocks, Half of them loaded with Rice, and the other Half with Grain, Doll, Ghee, and other Buzar Articles.

I have the Honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your very obedient humble Servant,

From TIPPOO SULTAUN.

Received March 27, 1791.

SOME Time ago your Lordſhip deſired that ſeveral Matters ſhould be replied to in Writing, and ſent to you. I embrace this Opportunity of writing, that in Matters of great Importance the Secrets of the Heart cannot be known but by the verbal Communication of a Perſon of Conſequence, nor can Affairs be adjuſted. Therefore, if your Lordſhip pleaſes, I will nominate a Perſon of Confidence, and, veſting him with full Authority, will ſend him to your Preſence, in order that by perſonal Converſations our ancient Friendſhip may gain daily Strength. Your Lordſhip muſt conſider me deſirous of your Friendſhip, and muſt act in a Manner that Peace may take Place between us, the Diſagreements exiſting be removed, and the Happineſs and Quiet of Mankind be eſtabliſhed.

Dated 22d Rubany Saul Sutty 1218 Mahomed, or the 20th Rejeb 1205 Hejery, 27th March, 1791.

To TIPPOO SULTAUN.

Written March 27, 1791.

I HAVE received and have underſtood the Contents of your Letter (recapitulate that received the 27th of March, 1791.)

The Moderation which always marks the Character of the Britiſh Government, and my own Perſonal Diſpoſition and Feelings, unite in making me wiſh moſt earneſtly for the Reſtoration of the Bleſſings of Peace, as ſoon as a juſt Reparation can be obtained for the Injuries and Loſſes that the Company and it's Allies have ſuffered.

If the Two Circars alone were engaged in the preſent War, I ſhould not object to receive the Perſon of Confidence whom you deſire to ſend to me, and I ſhould liſten as favourably to your Propoſitions as the Duty of my Station would admit; but ſo direct and expeditious a Mode of Negotiation is not now in my Power, for when I found that by your Diſregard to all my conciliatory Offers, I muſt neceſſarily be forced to engage in a War, I entered into the moſt ſolemn Treaties with Nizam Ally Khan and with the Peſhwa, declaring that we would aſſiſt each other, and that no one of the Powers would liſten ſeparately to any Advances from the Enemy without ſubmitting the Terms propoſed to the general Conſideration and Approbation of the different Parties of the Confederacy.

I cannot, therefore, conſiſtent with Honour and good Faith, receive, in the firſt Inſtance, a Perſon of Confidence from you, for the Purpoſe of adjuſting the ſeparate Terms of Peace between you and the Company; but if you ſhould think proper to tranſmit to me, in Writing, the Propoſitions that you are willing to make, as a Foundation upon which Negotiations may be opened, for the Reſtoration of Peace and Friendſhip between the Company, the Nizam, and the Peſhwa, on one Side, and your Circar on the other, I ſhall, on my Part, give them the moſt ſerious Conſideration, and, after Communication with the other Members of the Confederacy, I ſhall convey to you our joint Sentiments upon them.
